Sayreville War Memorial High School Presents Winning Logo on March 25

Local high school student, Patrick Pusung, has made a lasting mark in Sayreville. The borough's leaders are embracing his municipal logo design, which ties into the centennial celebration of the borough's incorporation in April 1919.

Patrick participated in logo design contest coordinated and sponsored by Riverton in conjunction with Sayreville War Memorial High School's graphic design department. As the winner of the contest, Patrick, who plans to study graphic design in college next fall, was awarded a $1,000 scholarship for developing a new logo for the borough.

Patrick presented his creation to Mayor Kennedy O'Brien and the Borough Council on Monday, March 25, following an introduction from Kevin Polston, project executive of Riverton. Polston then proudly presented the scholarship to Patrick.
